JUNE 17-21, 2024

Introduction to Electronic Music Camp

Designed for high school students who are new to music software applications and music composition, the Introduction to Music Technology Camp introduces students to audio engineering and electronic music composition through experiential learning.

JUNE 24-28, 2024

Drum Major Leadership Camp

Prepare for your new role as a drum major or section leader in your high school marching band during our Drum Major Leadership Camp. You'll focus on various aspects of field conducting and leadership in both competitive and non-competitive marching bands.

Music Production Camp

Designed for high school students who already compose their own electronic music using software applications and have a music theory background, the Music Production Camp provides a deeper dive into composing electronic music and using music technologies.
